Day Time CE5:

Victoria, Robert, Vicky and I did a daytime CE5, site orientation and remote viewing exercises.

They did very well in the remote viewing of images as a team.

To remote view only geometry, shapes, colors, textures, material, feelings just the components.

Note: camp site 23=  $2+3=5$  there was 5 of us.

Target 1

Target 2

Pete felt Victoria will get a visitation by her tent; Pete did not say anything, because he did not want to plant any mental suggestions or fear since she was apprehensive camping in the wild for the first time. She was concerned with bears and snakes but I told her the 8 year old pee wee football kids with military like redneck dads camping loudly by us was more of a danger to us. Also, the number 2 pops in Pete's head.

10:17pm: North @ 45 degrees Peter saw a flash bulb
10:40pm: Victoria & Cameron both heard heavy footsteps to the Northeast

11:01pm: To the right side of Victoria she felt a being near her side and immediately after she felt that Cameron had mentioned verbally that he, also felt there was an entity nearby listening to our telepathic CE5 protocol and feeling our loving energy trying to initiate contact.
NOTE: Victoria did not mention the being near her side to the Northwest/west until after Cameron mentioned the presence.

Ce5 San Diego November 14th, 2015 Global CE5 Report

11:11pm: North-northeast between the large and small trees below the mountain ridge Cameron saw a large red flash streaking downward from 7 degrees to 3 degrees. Note our sister team Ce5SanteFeMx Habib, also saw a red flash streak in their GlobalCe5.

11:42pm: North-northeast 7 degrees North-northeast between the large and small trees below the mountain ridge Peter & Cameron saw a green flashbulb. East @ 60 degrees Victoria saw a very bright flashbulb
Pete ate, too much Alfredo and is getting a food coma. He broke rule number 1 never eat heavy before CE5.

12:45am: North @ 7 degrees in the tree Cameron saw a very bright white flash bulb in the large tree to the north behind Victoria.

12:46am: West @ 80 degrees Peter saw a red flashbulb - 2 flashes

1:11am: Southwest @ 70 degrees

Cameron saw one white flashbulb

1:23am: North @ 45 degrees Peter saw 2 red flashbulbs

1:30am: Northeast @ 75 degrees
Cameron saw a white flashbulb

1:32am: North @ 90 degrees Peter saw red flashbulb

2:00am: The sky become completely crystal clear. Note prior Pete's remote view the number 2

2:13am: North @ 80 degrees Peter saw red flashbulb

2:18am: North @ 30 degrees Peter saw white blob from north 30 degrees straight down to horizon

2:19am: East @ 10 degrees Peter saw 2 white flashbulbs

2:22am: North @ 90 degrees Peter & Cameron saw the white blob from north 90 degrees to south moving very quick about 20 degrees in length

Ce5 San Diego November 14th, 2015 Global CE5 Report

2:28am: North-Northeast @ 30 degrees
Cameron saw a red blob in the north-northeast to right of big tree at 30 degrees

2:58am: East @ 10 degrees
Peter saw a white flashbulb

3:08am: Cameron recorded Robert snoring [it was a long day for Robert he had many things going on]

3:09am: East @ 25 degrees
Cameron saw a very bright and slow white flashbulb

The Morning After:

Victoria had a visitation by her tent after our Global CE5 she heard footsteps going around her tent. It was complete darkness no moon and if it was a person they would have tripped on the tent's stake lines. This was confirmed with Vicky's throat clearing to shoo away the foot steps. I heard Vicky's shooing as I tried to sleep in my tent just 20 feet away.

Victoria's report

This is my first CE5 expedition. I have been looking for it for a long time. Before this trip meeting the other group members, Peter, Robert, Vicki, and Cameron, I had been visited twice nearby or in my room. I could not see them but was able to hear them. How do I know now? I was surfing the web and suddenly heard the crop circle tone. Only one particular. My suggestion is that do not discredit the "sound." At that time I thought I was crazy or way too eager to contact with ETs. I was imaging myself. Not knowing it was "them" preparing me for contact. Secondly I feel they would reveal themselves gradually in personal level of comfort and acceptability or receptiveness. My first "wink" from the craft was before the group actual start. Peter seemed to know. He stayed right behind me when he was playing the crop circle tones from his phone. He seemed to deliberately sit behind me knowing I was soooo eager to communicate with the intelligent beings. Peter was able to sense it. He was such a facilitator. I am very grateful for this. When we out in the field, I did not experience like in Dr. Greer or seeing a craft that would woe me. Rather I realize my remote viewing skill is quite real. We all at some point told to disregard our intuition or innate feelings. Everything must be evidence base.

I found myself only you yourself contain internal encompass which had been implanted by the intelligence when you were born. But this encompass would only actualize its power or its magic under 4 premises: self awareness and acceptance to differences, self liberation/freedom comes from moderations and our deliberated desolation/avoidance to the inconveniences that we may cause through our journey, rooted innate civilized behaviors, and finally and the most important aspect radiating with true kindness and good intentions in every thing we do and words we say. The contact experience was compromised with me freezing like a popsicle. I told ETs" that is it! You are not showing me the big reveal. I am out. I am freezing to the bone." I walked back to get into survival mode. Then suddenly I felt my left side having some kind of heat. I thought maybe the heat generator that Robert brought to the camp. But Robert was in the field with the group. Again I discredit it again. So that was another mistake I made. My feeling is that the intelligent beings come in their term and time but they do listen to your needs. Love that. My last encounter before I succumbed to physical limitation was hearing foot steps around my tent. I remembered two particular some wind blows. Then foot steps appeared. One particularly around my tent to my right. I was fully awake with clear conscious. I knew the time was the most active time. No flash light but foot steps around my tent. I told them " I love you. Can I see your faces." Anyway, I expected to much. That was another mistake. However, I think I have confirmation for me to pursue this path. So happy to find my call.

Robert's report

This past weekend my wife Vickie and I had the pleasure of being guests of the San Diego CE-5 Initiative Team. It was our first official joint CE-5 experience. We were welcomed quite graciously by Peter Chan, a well seasoned ambassador to our Star Friends. The setting was a remote and beautiful getaway in the San Diego mountains. It was however alive with activity from other campers in the area. The temperature chilled quite significantly during the evening and morning e...arly hours, as we sought contact. The night sky was nothing short of spectacular.

My first "sightings" were as I was told, tricks my eyes were playing on me, however, I can't help but feel that on some level, that state of consciousness I experienced wasn't entirely just a newbie's enthusiastic error. Real or imagined, I felt that somehow, someday, that was the universe inviting me to open the door and come out and play.

I learned quite a bit, as I took my first steps through the galactic doors of perception. I believe I will only build on this event, to become deeper aware and in tune with all that IS, that we don't typically perceive.

Most of all, I am reminded of why we (I) do this, and that is to be a vessel of love for all of the Creators creatures, and to truly know that sum total of all of the minds in the universe is ONE, and that we are infinitely eternal. THIS is my path to being rid of FEAR. This is my path to help my fellow Terrains come to know that we truly have HOPE. We don't have to succumb to belief systems and concepts that have us hating and fearing each other, our E.T. family, and most of all ourselves. There is NO separation.

Thank you, CE-5 San Diego. Until we gather together again.
